20 The bye laws are generally unobjectionable except bye laws 3 + 10. Bye-law 10 is unnecessary as the Regn itself provides for the breach of the bye laws. A repetition of this in the bye laws is ~~was~~ not called for.

21 Bye law 3 is both ambiguous + inconsistent with the Regn. The provn therein that no fish or meat should be sold in any public market or place is directly opposed to Sec. 31 A (c) which clearly lays down the principle that sale of meat or fish should take place only in public markets either set apart ~~from~~ for the purpose by the Dt Board a licensed by them. Sir,

I have the honor to state that when this petition was placed before the District Board at their meeting held on 24th February 1913, a resolution was passed to the effect that as it appears that the Byelaws passed by the District Board in their Resolution No. XXII dated 5th August 1912, required (under Subsection 2 of Section 31A, added by the Local Boards Amendment Regulation X of 1911) prior publication of draft Byelaws with a notice specifying the date on or after which the draft will be taken into consideration the above resolution be considered as modified to the extent that the Board approved of those Byelaws as draft Byelaws for publication.

2. It was further resolved that that these draft byelaws be published in Part II in the Mysore Gazette besides local publication by beat of tom-tom in each Umon in this District, and that the 18th July 1913 be fixed as the date on or after which the draft byelaws will be taken into consideration along with any objections or suggestions relating thereto. A copy of the resolution together with a copy of draft rules are herewith submitted.

3. Accordingly the draft byelaws referred to in the above have been published in the Mysore Gazette and spare copies have been sent to Amildars for local publication together with a notice as required in the above resolution and after the expiry of the date fixed in the said notice, any objections or suggestions which may be received will be duly considered by the District Board at their meeting fixed for the 1st August 1913 and thereafter the draft byelaws will be submitted for the approval of Government.
